THE LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

In keeping with its mission, NCBAА presents the Ninth Annual Leadership Development Institute for African American Midlevel Administrators. The Institute prepares African Americans in community colleges for leadership roles insuring that the pipeline to executive-level positions is fluid.

TARGETED AUDIENCE

- Deans
- Faculty
- Classified staff in community colleges
- Individuals transitioning from other fields into community college leadership positions
- Individuals in the Community College Leadership Doctoral Program at Morgan State University.

INSTITUTE STRUCTURE

The institute will begin Sunday, October 10, 2010 and end on Friday, October 15, 2010 in Houston, Texas. An interactive approach will be utilized to facilitate focused dialogues on community college issues pertaining to leadership styles and critical issues surrounding community college's governance.

APPLICATIONS

Applications for the 2010 institute will be accepted beginning April 26, 2010 and ending September 3, 2010. Applications are available on the NCBAА website:

www.ncbaa-international.org

*Early applications are encouraged since only 25 participants will be accepted to the program.

FEES

Participants must provide personal transportation, hotel and some meal expenses, as well as the $1000 institute fee.
